

archives-march-november-2014

Archives March-November 2014

NOVEMBER

- Using Toy Ads To Teach Media Literacy (MiddleWeb.com)
- I was quoted in “Drowning in Data” (Free-Times.com) and in “Literacies for the Digital Age” (Discovery.com)

OCTOBER

- Media Literacy: Truth & Political Advertising, (MiddleWeb.com)

SEPTEMBER

- Costume Design: Part of the Language of Film (Middleweb.com)

AUGUST

Thanks to these educators for writing about my TKAM website and linking it to reading informational texts in the literature classroom.

- Teaching Media As Texts: The Emmy Awards (MiddleWeb.com)
- Close Reading: The Language of Film (4 of 4)

JULY

- Close Reading of Ads Promotes Critical Thinking (3 of 4)
- Close Reading: Visual Literacy Through Photography (2 of 4)
- Learner at the Center of a Networked World (Aspen Institute Report)

JUNE

- Close Reading and What It Means for Media Literacy (1 of 4)

- A report on Frank's workshop with Ohio librarians and other educators

MAY

- Spreading the media literacy message-around the world

APRIL

- I've just returned from a productive two week trip to India; details here

MARCH

- History vs Hollywood: Who Gets The Story Right? (Middleweb)

 Media and Information Literacy Policy and Strategy Guidelines	UNESCO has just released a comprehensive MIL Policy and Strategy Guidelines resource. It is the first of its kind to treat MIL as a composite concept, unifying information literacy and media literacy.
	Common Sense Media's Digital Literacy & Citizenship Curriculum Now Available as iBooks Textbooks