

Librarian Authored Media Literacy Lessons

In March 2017, during the South Carolina Association of School Librarians (SCASL) annual conference, I led a group of South Carolina school librarians in a workshop on media literacy leading up to them writing original media literacy lesson plans. On this page you will find those lessons, as well as others submitted by those who were invited by me to host their lessons. If you have one you'd like to see included, send it to me fbaker1346@gmail.com
